DMEC Honors Longtime Sponsor Liberty Mutual

San Diego, California. December 7, 2009— The Disability Management Employer Coalition (DMEC) is honoring Liberty Mutual for 10 years of supporting the non-profit association's mission of assisting employers in returning employees to productive employment following disability.

Liberty Mutual has provided the association with its highest level of support continuously for the past decade, and recently has renewed its commitment for 2010.

"Liberty Mutual has been behind us for the past ten years," says Marcia Carruthers, CPDM, CEO and President of DMEC. "Their support has driven our programs that help employers return workers to productive employment. Without them, we could not have reached as many people as we have."

Nazneen Vimadlal, Vice President of Marketing for the area of Liberty Mutual that provides group disability, life, leave management and integrated disability management products and services, praised DMEC for the critical information it provides to employers, employees, caregivers and carriers. "From absence management to return to work, DMEC research, resources and staff help benefits professionals better understand key issues and opportunities. We are proud to support DMEC for its tireless work on issues of disability in the workplace."
